Student Services and Amenities Fees (SSAF)

What did Sport receive and how was it utilised?

A message to students, sporting clubs and stakeholders.

The University reinstated a compulsory Student Services and Amenities Fee (SSAF) in 2012, following an alteration to federal legislation in October 2011.

In 2020 MU Sport will receive $4.26m which is 23% of the total amount collected at approximately $70 per full-time student.

The following pie chart illustrates the proposed distribution of the $19M SSAF to be collected by the University in 2020.

Sport Matters at Melbourne – It Inspires, Connects and Leads

MU Sport in striving to meet the vision currently services over 5,116 student members of sporting clubs, 10,802 student members of the fitness centre, and 3,420 student casual users with over 680,000 visits per annum to the University’s sporting facilities and services.

The management and board of MU Sport carefully considered how the SSAF funds would be best utilised in line with the University of Melbourne’s ‘Growing Esteem 2015-2020’ and ‘The University of Melbourne Strategic Plan for Sport’ objectives of increasing and supporting student engagement and participation mindful of the current and future financial position of the organisation, and that the long term future of the SSAF is not assured.

It was determined that the ongoing priority was to support initiatives to increase student participation and engagement while continuing to address the backlog in sport related building... maintenance and capital projects partly caused as a result of the introduction of Voluntary Student Unionism in 2007. These strategies will be carefully explored with all stakeholders including sporting clubs and groups and general users over time and introduced as and when more resources become available.

The following pie charts illustrate the income and expenditure in broad percentages for MU Sport.

The pie charts identify that 49.2% of the total income generated by MU Sport is derived from the SSAF and that this amount is subsequently expended in subsidising student participation in fitness and sport programs, clubs and maintaining the buildings and grounds. The bulk of the remaining income is derived from student fees and charges in fitness services, clubs and facility hire and highlights that students involved in sport, fitness and recreation at the University effectively pay twice to participate; through the payment of the SSAF and again with user pay fees and charges to participate. For many students cost continues to be a significant disincentive to participation in sport and fitness activities and this will continue to be difficult to address whilst a significant percentage of income goes towards the cost of buildings and grounds.

Despite the current challenges the SSAF provided MU Sport with the opportunity to reduce the cost to access some services, improve the quality and/or provide additional services in 2020:
